

Japanese Toilet – You wash your hands with the water entering the tank, which is then used for the next flush.

Japanese Toilet/Washing Machine – Not only saves space, but also stores the waste water from the washing machine to use as flush water for the toilet.